FOREWORD

Just as a compass leads a traveler through uncharted explorations, so does a sound education lead one through life's unknown ways.
A student's life encompasses scholastic aspirations, spiritual consciousness, social experience, sports activities, and an awareness of the larger world about him.
A college education, as a faithful compass, points the way to expanding horizons. The student, like an explorer, begins his journey bravely, knowing that somewhere ahead is the land he seeks.

To a man who has served Northwest Missouri State College for twenty-four years; a man who has sponsored the Industrial Arts Club; a man who has sponsored Alpha Phi Omega; a man who has served all students through his work with the Student Senate; to Mr. Kenneth Thompson, professor and friend, we dedicate the 1966 TOWER.

A MESSAGE FROM . . .
PRESIDENT ROBERT P. FOSTER

NORTHWEST MISSOURI STATE COLLEGE
MARYVILLE, MISSOURI
ROBERT P. FOSTER, PRESIDENT

To the 1965-66 Students of the
Northwest Missouri State College:

What is Northwest Missouri State College? It is many things. It is a place where rich and rewarding social life flourishes. It is a place where the discipline and thrill and camaraderie of the various sports activities add zest to campus life. It is a place where the spirit of friendliness and goodwill is ever present. But most important of all Northwest Missouri State College is a place of learning, a place where scholarship is valued, a place where each person comes to know himself and to gain a knowledge of the world in which he lives. Northwest Missouri State College builds the citizens of tomorrow who will strengthen our great nation and help it in its effort to make this a better world for all.

Robert P. Foster

A MESSAGE FROM . . .
PRESIDENT EMERITUS JONES

NORTHWEST MISSOURI STATE COLLEGE

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI

J. W. Jones, President
Emeritus

To the 1965-66 Students of the Northwest Missouri State College:

Your TOWER staff has prepared for you a wonderful 1966 TOWER based on the areos of your college life that encompass your scholastic activities, your social good times, your successful sports program, and your serious consideration of those things that contribute to your spiritual life. While these activities contribute to your success in college, I should like to call your attention to two other facts of your college life that start with the letter "S": The State and the Sincerity of your actions.

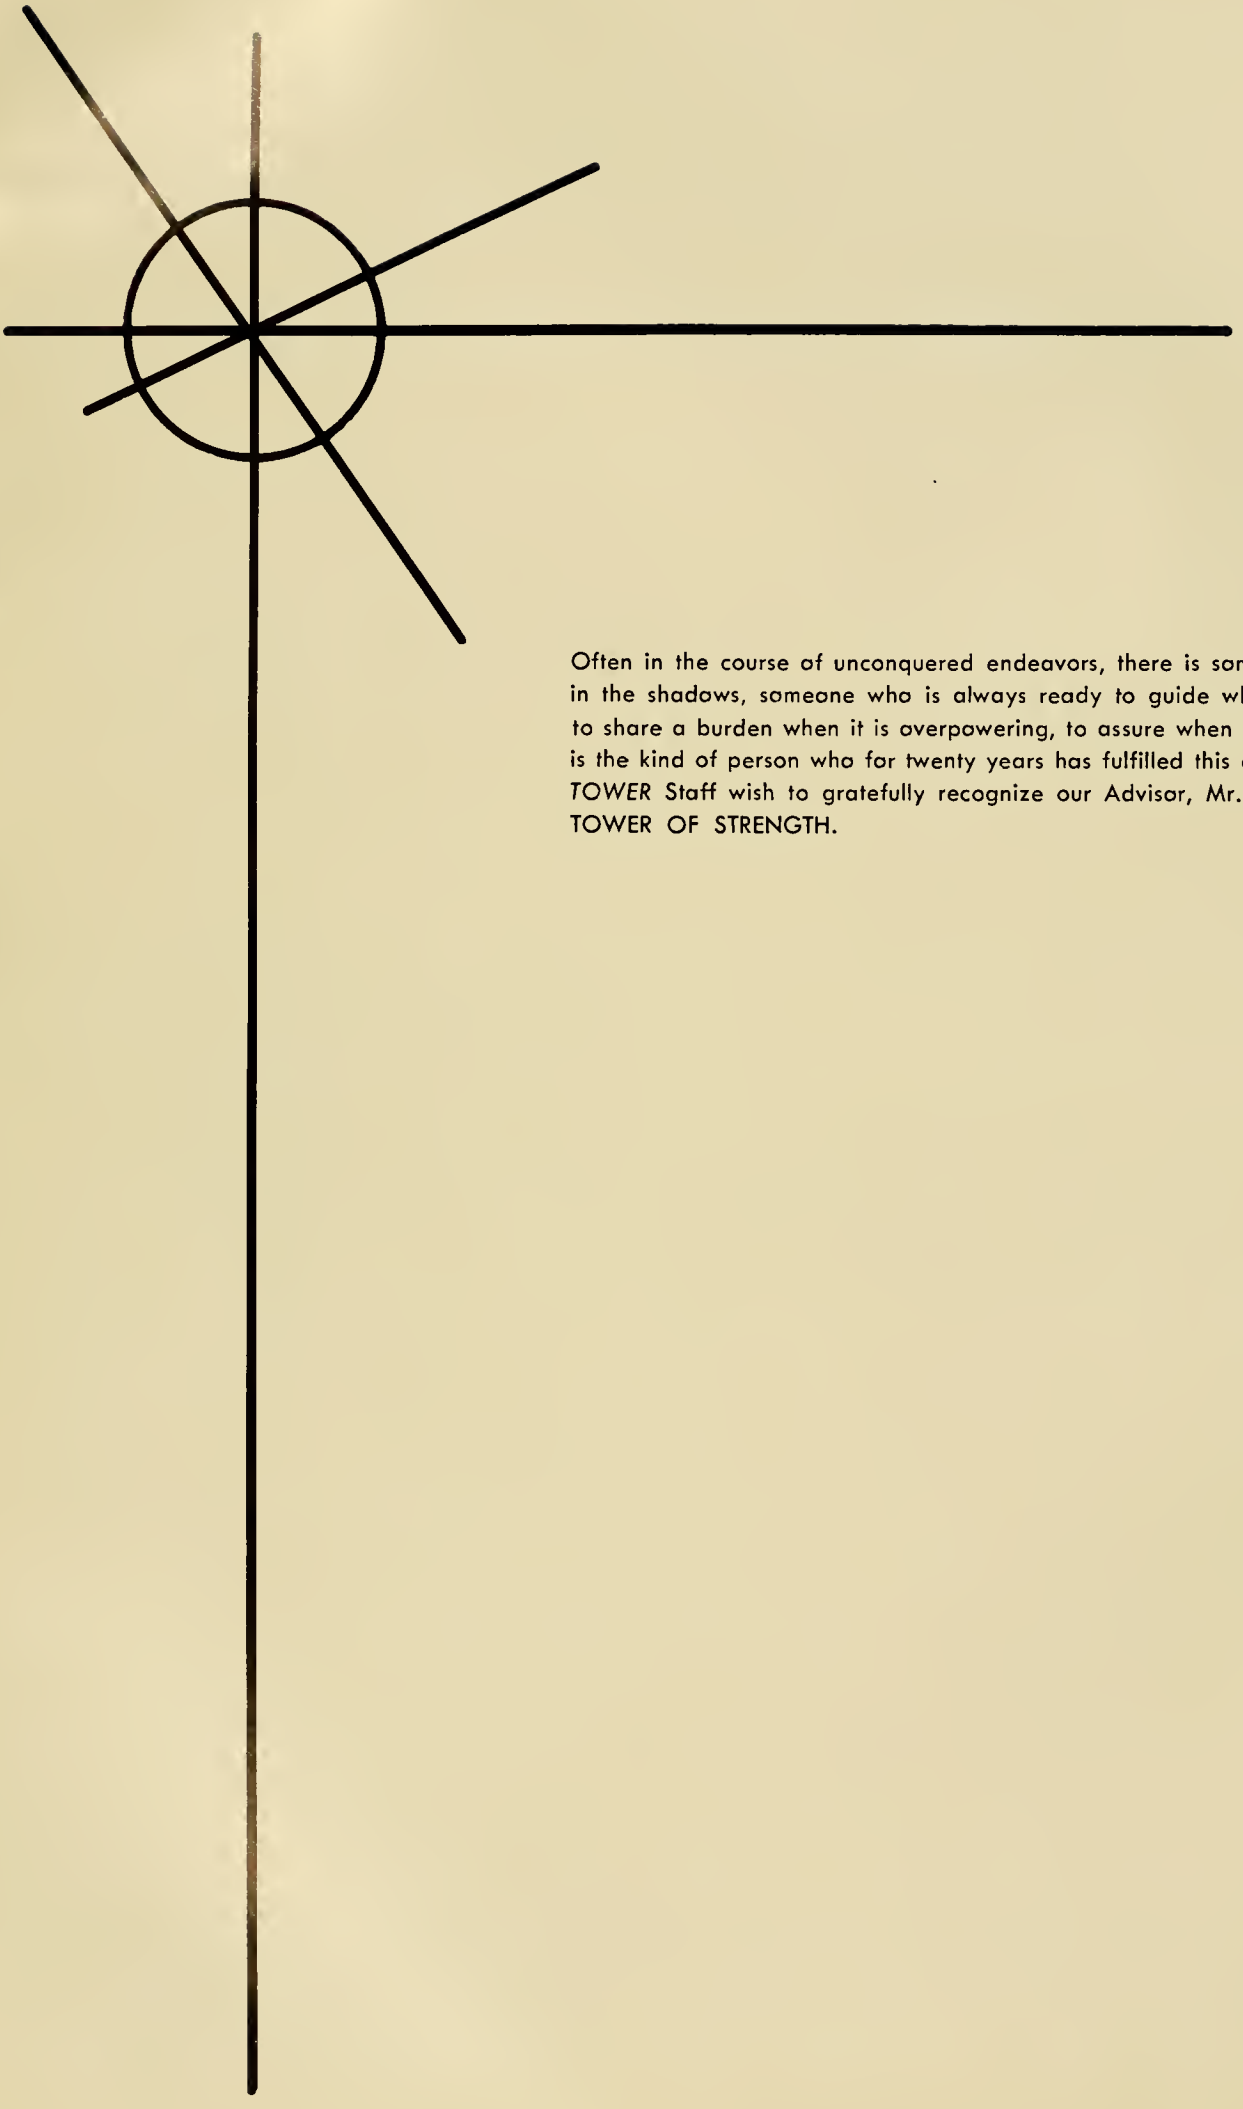

The State has made a substantial investment in the Northwest Missouri Stote College in order that there might be available to you, the students of this college, the best facilities which contribute to a college education: Faculty and physical facilities. The investment on the part of the State is for you. The state has confidence that you will return in services to the life of the people of the State interest in keeping with the value of the investment.

The sincerity of your actions will shape your success and give stature to your character. Out of the four areas portrayed in this TOWER each of you should emerge as a person who is truthful, faithful, straightforward, honest, without deceit, pretense or hypocrisy. I urge you to give serious thought to the utilization of the opportunities provided by the state in the development of these traits which will insure your success.

The 1966 TOWER is an interesting record of your life here during the past year and you are the kind of people who deserve such a publication.

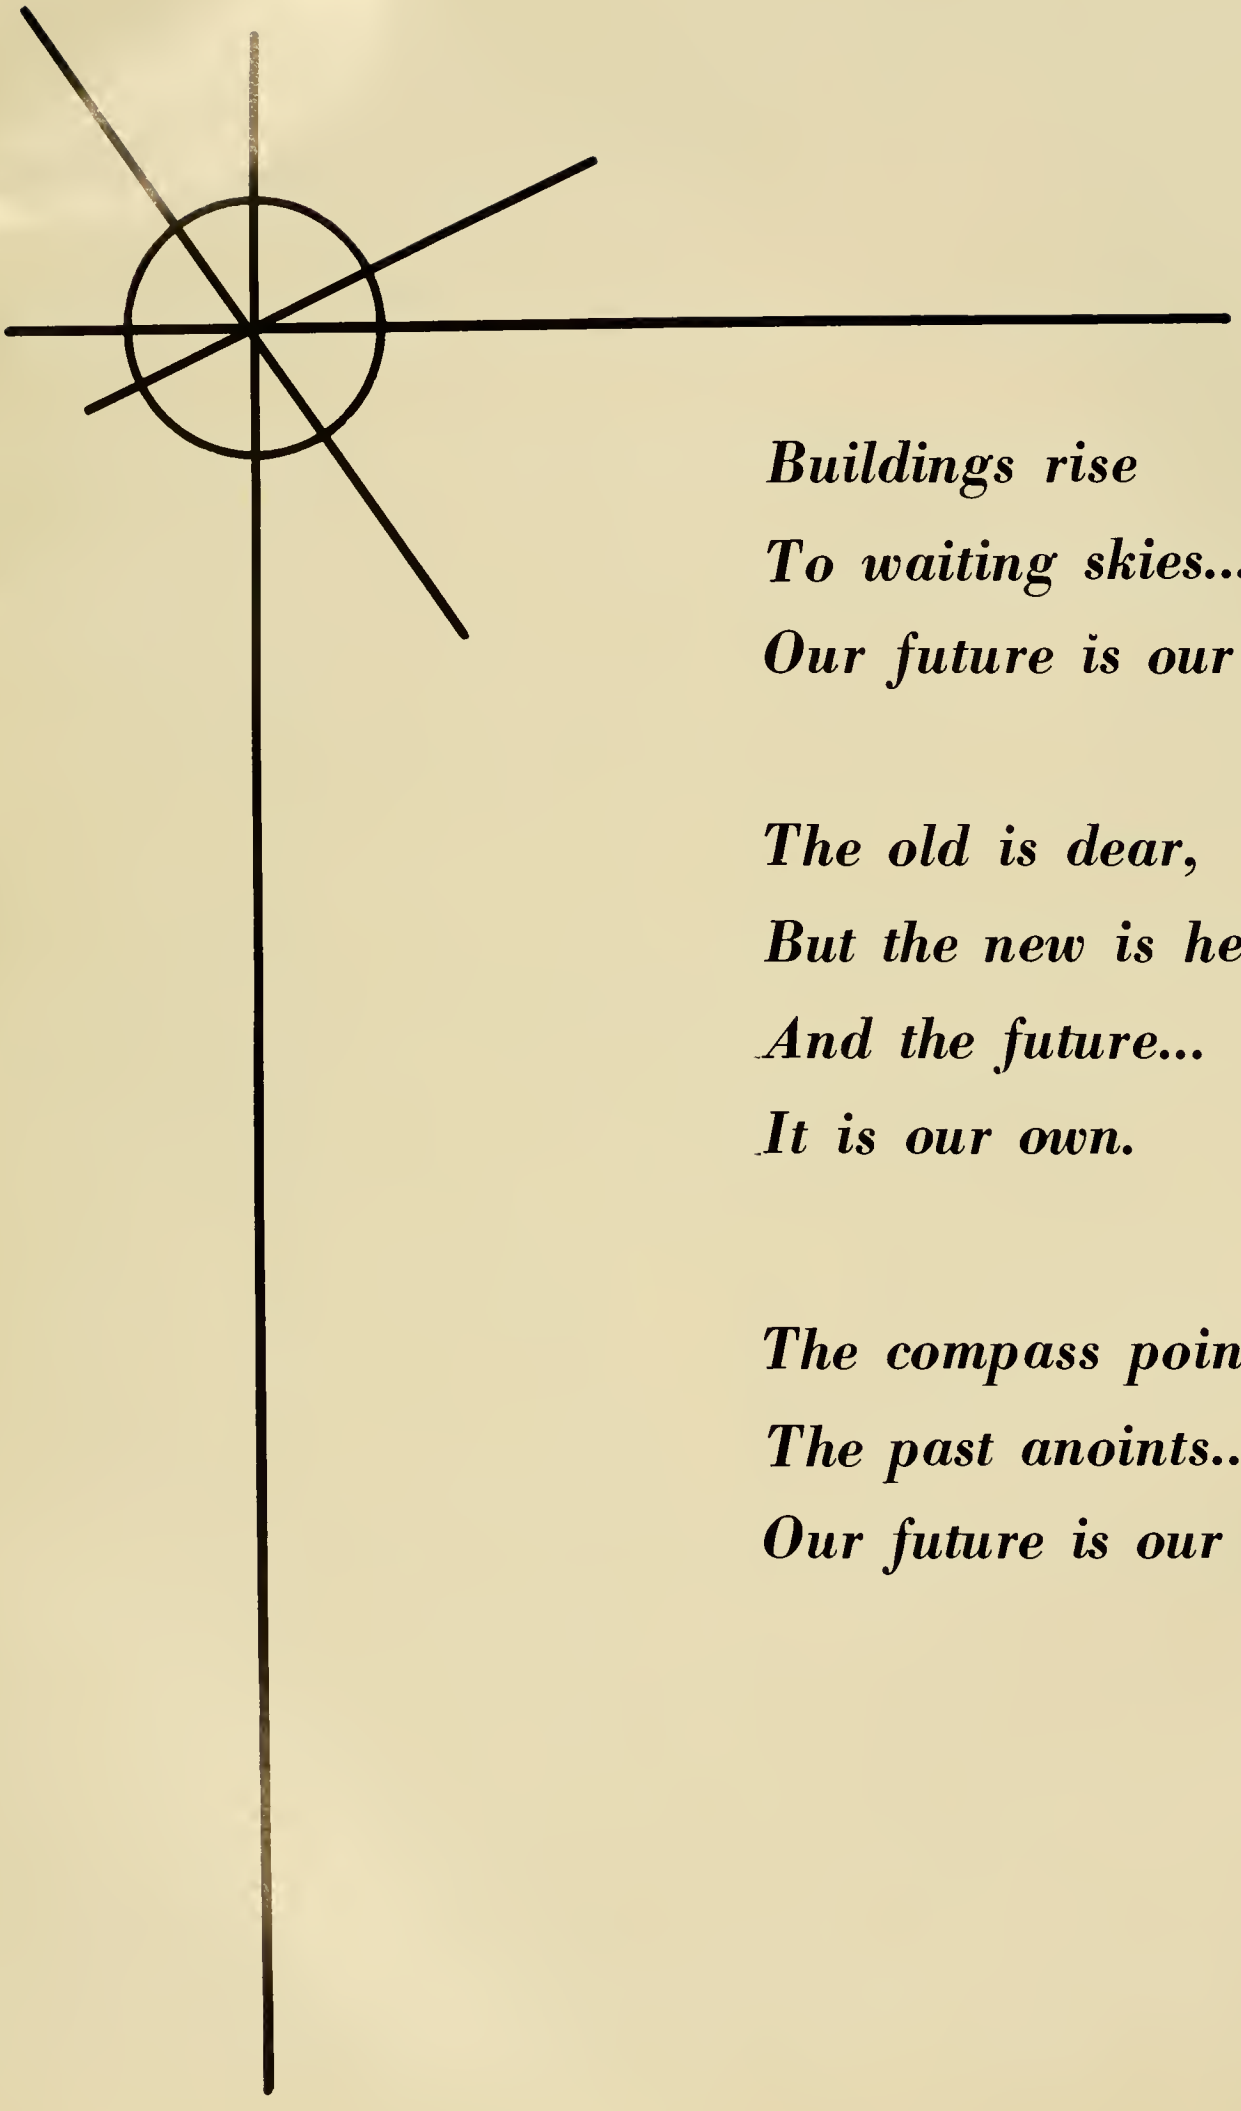

J. W. Jones
President-emeritus

Often in the course of unconquered endeavors, there is someone who quietly stands in the shadows, someone who is always ready to guide when paths are uncharted, to share a burden when it is overpowering, to assure when doubts arise. Because he is the kind of person who for twenty years has fulfilled this capacity, we of the 1966 TOWER Staff wish to gratefully recognize our Advisor, Mr. Howord Ringold, as our TOWER OF STRENGTH.

Buildings rise
To waiting skies...
Our future is our own.

The old is dear,
But the new is here,
And the future...
It is our own.

The compass points,
The past anoints...
Our future is our own.

Tradition is the direction that has already been taken

Study is a night and day process

And learning is just a matter of perspective

Tradition focuses on decision ...

And the individual has made a choice...

The directions we take may be the traditions of tomorrow.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT . . .

JERRY TAYLOR
Student Body President

The duties of his office must be fulfilled as well as attending classes.

A student's life is surrounded by many different activities at Northwest Missouri State. These activities are centered around a compass, a Compass of Success. It matters not to which direction the compass needle points, because the end result will be Success.

A new student on campus will orient the compass in the direction of Scholastic achievement. Time forever passes as the student acquires new friends and many new social outlets. Social life, an integral portion of college life, is one-fourth of the Compass of Success. Although studies and extra-curricular activities are important, Spiritual fellowship for the student is an important aspect of college life. Rounding out the Compass of Success are Sports. The college would be lacking without the sports activities. Whether at the inter-collegiate level or at the intramural level, the student contributes to the Compass of Success.

Sincerely,
Jerry Taylor
Student Body President

'65 SPRING COMMENCEMENT

The "last mile" is a short one as seniors make the traditional march from Colden Hall to Lamkin Gym for spring commencement.

Mr. Howard Ringold and Mr. Ryland Milner are among those faculty members preparing to "send off" another graduating class.

Top students receive honors, awards and an address by Dean Thate at the AAUP Honors Banquet.

'65 SPRING COMMENCEMENT

The class of 1965 is eager for the moment when, diploma in hand, they will be graduates of NWMSC.

President Foster congratulates and bids farewell to the '65 seniors.

Missouri's governor, the Honorable Warren Hearns, adds his words of guidance in an address.

President Jerry Taylor and Vice-President Travers Booth led the Student Government Association this year. The fourteen members of the Senate included Rosanne Bartlett, secretary; Judy Miller, corresponding secretary; and Bernard Veak, treasurer. Sponsors of the governing body were Dean Koerble, Dr. Peter Jackson, and Kenneth Thompson.

The three standing committees are: the student-faculty affairs, the student-faculty disciplinary, and the newly created student traffic court, which hears and judges all appeals dealing with parking on campus.

Because the college is growing so rapidly, the Association must be constantly revising its regulations and modes of government. Two such committees re-evaluating past policies are the Constitutional Revision Committee and the Who's Who's Revision Committee.

The Don Saper Award was for the third year presented to the senior Senator who accomplished the most in building the campus student government. Last year this award went to Sue Thompson.

For the purpose of learning and sharing ideas concerning student government, delegates were sent to the Associates Student Governments Convention at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. There they met and talked with college and university delegates from all over the United States. Delegates from NWMSC were alsa sent to the regional Exchange of Ideas Conference.

Efficiency and accuracy are key words in the duties af Staff Assistants and Dr. Frank Grube, Literary Advisor. Those busily working for the deadline are Mory Knepper, Helen Harmon, Dr. Frank Grube, Cathy Baumli, Kris Johnstan, Mary Potter, and Borbara Zehr.

Sports Editor David Mohr reaches a final step in preparing his pages for publishing—that of identifying, numbering, and placing the pictures properly.

Beneath the words "And the truth shall make you free . . . ," students filed into the Administration Building to obtain a copy of The Northwest Missourian.

In the classroom, students looked to teachers and books, laboratories and personal investigation for facts upon which to base truths. About campus activities, they looked to the Missourian for facts and features.

While fulfilling the expected obligations of factual enlightenment, editorial comment, and faculty features, the Missourian staff also did the unexpected. On the first Friday of the school year, a six-member freshman editorial board and their new advisor, Mrs. T. H. Eckert, published the first issue.

Other innovations included four extra pages per issue, the rebirth of "The Stroller," picture-page stories highlighting such events as Homecoming and the dedication of the Olive DeLuce Fine Arts Building, a Homecoming edition featuring pictures of both queens on Friday morning after the Thursday night coronation, a beat system for beginning newswriters, and weekly deadlines.

At a special meeting of the organizational reporters, the staff sought to develop rapport and to educate club representatives in the journalistic style. Staff leaders and members of the two newswriting classes also held a pre-Christmas supper.

The year 1965-66 was the product of a dedicated attempt to cover all areas of campus life fairly and adequately and to improve the Missourian as a public relations medium.

Critically examining an editorial are Sally Jackson, Fred Beavers, and Bob Bosch.

Thomas Monn, Kay Weidenhoft, and Peggy Herron helped Ursle Crockett, manoger of the Maryville Daily Forum print shop, prepare a page for the local newspaper.

Solly Jockson, Sharon Moellenberndt, ond Regie Turnbull, advertising monoger, prepared issues each week for mailing to subscribers.

The staff enjoyed publishing their informative ond interesting weekly. Some members of the staff were Arthur Thompson, Thomas Mann, Bea Runyon, Susan Cisco, Mrs. T. H. Eckert, Staff Advisor; Tenillo Sheehon, John DeMaio, and Linda Smith.

Zeta Lambda chapter of Kappa Delta Pi started their year with a picnic at the college park for the sponsor, actives, and pledges to renew friendships over the summer. A successful fall pledge program welcomed thirty-five new members.

A variety of programs added enthusiasm and interest to the meetings. At one of the meetings, a Peace Corps representative spoke on his experiences as a teacher in Liberia and showed slides of the people, schools, geographic landscapes, and cities near the area where he was an instructor.

One of the year's highlights was the annual Christmas party. After a special solo performance by Judy LaMar, the group sang Christmas carols and presented a gift to sponsor Dr. Harr for his part in making their year an interesting and rewarding one.

Everett Brown, Director of Field Services, spoke to the group in January giving them hints about job interviews.

In February, Wava Tackett, Judy Thatch, and Mary Mast represented MSC's chapter at the Twenty-fifth Biennial Convocation held in Houston, Texas. Upon returning, they reported their experiences and information to the chapter.

Jackie Henningsen served refreshments at the annual Christmas party.

BETA BETA BETA

Beta Beta Beta national biological honorary organization, was initiated on this campus last year. Its aim is to stimulate interest in research among its members. Initiates, selected by faculty members in the biology department, must maintain a 2.8 grade point average in their biology courses while maintaining an overall average of 2.5.

The first meeting of the year occasioned a tea in honor of the new initiates. At bi-monthly meetings, such topics as oceanography, cosmic rays, and DNA and RNA molecules were studied. STUDENT AFFILIATES OF THE AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY

The Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society received their local charter during the spring semester of 1965. The first meeting was held early in April and the new officers were installed.

The purpose of this chapter is to afford an opportunity for the students of chemistry and chemical engineering at NWMSC to become better acquainted, to secure the intellectual stimulation that arises from professional association, to secure experience in preparing and presenting technical material before chemical audiences, to foster a professional spirit among members, and to instill a professional pride in chemistry and chemical engineering.

This group was honored to hear several chemistry professors from other campuses speak at their meetings. Dr. Charles Meloan of Kansas State and Dr. Norman Rabjohn have been two of the guest speakers.

In addition to their campus activities, the Junior Affiliates have taken field trips to Cook's Paint, American Oil Refinery, Midwest Research Institute, and Gulf Chemical, all in Kansas City.

Other activities included a Christmas banquet with the chemistry faculty and Beta Beta Beta fraternity.

Homecoming found the ACE busily engaged in house decorations which placed fourth under the direction of Loren Burkhalter. A Christmas party, Valentine party, and senior banquet were among the social events of the Association. Some of the themes for regular meetings were "Pressures on Children," "The School's Role with Pressures," "The Church's Role in Relieving Pressures," "Childhood Education's Role in Relieving Pressures," "Parents' Role in Relieving Pressure," "Play and Recreation in Relieving Pressures," and "Children's Views on Pressures."

Jo Ann Voyce and Mary Mast graciously serve hot coffee and cookies to several members of NWMSC's faculty at the annual Valentine Coffee Hour.

The 1965-66 agenda began for the John Dewey Chapter of Student N.E.A. with a "watermelon feed" in the college park. Other highlights were films on the topic of education, panel discussions, a Christmas party, a Valentine faculty tea, a tour of regional high schools, and the election and installation of officers. A large panel of Horace Mann students was an interesting means by which members attempted to broaden their understanding of the teaching field.

Under the direction of Russell McCampbell, S. N. E. A. participated in Homecoming activities, placing third in the clown division with the theme, "The Champagne Bath of 1922 . . . Soak Up a Little Education."

S. N. E. A. members, acting as ushers and distributors of professional literature, assisted with the N.W. Mo. District Teacher's meeting. The chapter was well represented among the officers in the District F. T. A.-S. N. E. A. group as Jill Richard became chairman and Jo Fender, vice-chairman. The chapter was also the largest in attendance at the Missouri State Teachers' Convention held in St. Louis, with sixteen members.

Sharon Schmidt was the recipient of the 1964-65 Outstanding Senior Award.

In order to produce their show, members studied modern movements, dance composition, individual expression, choreography, dance techniques, and floor patterns.

The Dance Club also presented a demonstration of modern movements in dance composition on Career Day. A highlight of the year was a trip to the Stevens College spring dance recital in Columbia, Missouri.

PEOPLE-TO-PEOPLE

A People-to-People university chapter was organized on the NWMSC campus towards the end of the fall, 1965, semester, through the efforts of a number of enthusiastic students.

The purpose of People-to-People is, in the words of former President Eisenhower, "to take full odvantage of all the new and greatly improved methods of communications and travel to make many millions of individual contacts on a friendly personal basis in the hundreds of ways available among the citizens of all nations. Thus will be promoted the knowledge and understanding that are necessary ingredients in establishing a lasting, universal peace with justice."

The new chapter was comprised of neorly twenty-five students, twelve of whom represented foreign countries.

Included in the program for the year were forums, visits and tours, overnight hosting of foreign students in homes, and group discussions. The chapter hoped to participate in the American Student Abroad Program, as well as to sponsor events of an international nature on the NWMSC campus in the future.

Nucleus of the pilot chapter of People-to-People were: FIRST ROW: Dr. James Lowe, Sponsor; Elaine Murray, Secretary-Treasurer; Gayle Bradfield, Jim Chen. With this girl's great jumping style, how can her team lose?

The year 1965 was a good one for the PEM Club. It started with a bang as the election of officers yielded capable majors to cope with the year's festivities.

Highlights included the annual Career Day and an officiating clinic held on campus. The annual Career Day proved to be very successful with the NWMSC women's physical education majors greeting and acquainting praspective freshman majors with the varied program offered in the Women's Physical Education Department. During the day, demonstrations and events in dance, balance beam, track and field, and team games; and class discussions of philosophy, recreation, health, science, and methods were presented and enjoyed. The officiating clinic held in Lamkin Gymnasium proved very interesting and helpful to the majors. The female officiating expert directed an actual game between teams composed of majors and allowed time for questions and discussions on officiating techniques.

This year PEM Club members actively increased the town recreation program by lending time and effort in helping coach high school girls' basketball teams and by aiding the Club in its effarts to build a library for major reference sources.

Working toward affiliation with a national honorary social science fraternity is an exciting venture for Mr. Thompson, President Diane Whitney, and Dr. Angman.

The opening meeting of the Social Science Club centered around a discussion by Dr. Harr of the comprehensive examination to be required of all majors and minors in the social science department.

At other meetings, a speaker from a St. Joseph radio station provided an informative discussion on the censorship of news, and Durward Dyke of the NWMSC faculty analyzed the rights of the accused, an important legal issue.

Program plans were made for a debate over the repeal of Section 14b, the "right to work" law. For this debate, a representative of the Communication Workers of America (affiliated with the AFL-CIO) and a member of the National Association of Manufacturers were invited to the campus.

A highlight in planning was the possibility of establishing a chapter of a national honor fraternity for the social sciences. The Club took preliminary steps toward this goal.

A special Charity project resulted in their $50 donation to the Welfare Boys' Town Orphonage in Pusan, Korea. Taking part in Homecoming activities, the Wives captured third place in the house decorations competition with their theme, "Victory Is the Cat's Meow." The organization participated for the first time in intramural sports, while other groups were involved in knitting, social dancing, bridge, exercise, cake decorating and art. Program topics included make-up, Christmas wrapping, etiquette, taxes, and child care.

ACTION ON THE GRIDIRON

"Jump ball!"

Assistant Coach Bob Iglehart and Coach R. D. Buckridge check over team strategy at a workout session.

An improved team this year, the Maryville Bearcats had a 10-13 win-lose record compared to last year's 3-20 record. Improved teamwork from last year's players Dave Remund, Joe Peirce, Bob Marek, and Mike Simon, accounted for the better record. Also helping out were sophomore Ron Howitt and freshmen Jim Vollmuth and Roger Nelson.

The Bearcats won their opener in Lamkin Gym against Pittsburg State, 82-79. Maryville lost the next three games, however, and it looked like another dismal seoson. The 'Cats then won the fifth and sixth games against N. E. Mo. State and Washburn, respectively. They maintained a .500 record until they played S. W. Mo. State and lost 72-92. The 'Cats lost the next three games winding up the season with a victory against Washburn University.

Senior Dave Remund led in scoring both in average per game and percentage of shots made. Dave had a 16.5 points per game average with a 53.3% shooting percentage. Remund's career total of 858 points put him in fifth place for career point production in Bearcat history.

Coach Buckridge loses three seniors this year: Dave Remund, Joe Peirce, and Bob Marek. But he has been out recruiting new talent to replace graduating seniors.

MIAA Meet—4th place

Five sports comprised the program offered by the Women's Intramural Council for recreation for all women on campus: bowling, basketball, volleyball, badminton, and table tennis. Greater participation, particularly by freshman students, resulted in successful tournaments in all five areas.

At the annual Awards Night, an Independent team from Roberta Hall captured last year's Supremacy Trophy, while plaques for individual sports went to: 4th Floor Hudson Hall for volleyball; Netwits (Hudson Hall) for basketball; DZ for bowling; and Roberta Hall (Independents) for badminton and table tennis.

Over-all Chairman Kathy Smith, and Sponsors Dr. Kathryn Riddle and Mrs. Ramona Collins, worked to develop a larger and more diverse program for coming seasons.

An addition to other available extracurricular sports for women in the spring semester, while not part of the regular intramural program, was judo for self-defense and for recreation. Lessons were given in affiliation with the St. Joseph YMCA.

Time out for a jump ball can make the difference between a victory and a loss when the competition is as close as this.

Each game counts toward that final victory and championship, not only in basketball but in all the intramural sports.

INTRAMURALS

Teammates stand by, Linda Hopkins makes a clean return, and Sharon Gabinski is ready as Delta Zeta battles it out with an independent team during volleyball intramurals.

Referee Kathy Smith helps tally scores with Cindy Miller and Dee Madison in the women's intramural volleyball series.

During second semester, judo instruction for women was an exciting addition to non-competitive sports.

In intramural bowling, "Dutch" Hilger's attention is directed to the strike she hopes to make.

An independent faces Phi Mu Jeannie Meadows, both looking for points to boost team scores in women's intramural bowling.

FIRST ROW: Donald Bumbacher, Bruce Kulp, Kent Babcock.
SECOND ROW: Dennis Gates, Ed Smith, Dean Willrett.

Under the direction of A. Kent Babcock, student intramural chairman, the intramural competition at NWMSC has become one of the major pastimes for the men on campus. Because of increased enrollment, there are many more participants in intramurals than ever before. The many and varied activities offered by the commission served to provide these men an opportunity to demonstrate their athletic ability.

Just introduced this year, the flag football competition met with immediate success. Close competition was found in both the independent and fraternity leagues. The highlight of the flag football season was the All-School Championship game between the Phi Sigma Epsilon team, the "Zombies," and the independent team, the "Good Guys," which was played under the lights at Rickenbrode Stadium.

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity overwhelmed all other teams in the tug-of-war competition for their second straight championship.

The "Good Guys" dominated the All-School Swimming Championship this year by placing first and second in every event and setting many intramural swimming records. This team, composed of freshman members of the varsity swimming team, went unchallenged by fraternity competitors.

An event which always attracts much interest from both fraternities and independents is the intramural wrestling championships, and this year was no exception. After the last match had ended, the fraternities barely edged out the independents with six All-School Champions to five.

Other activities which the intramural commission sponsored were basketball, smash, tennis, ping pong, indoor and outdoor track, badminton, and softball. This past year was one of the most successful for intramurals on this campus, for which the fine efforts of the fraternities and independents who participated are responsible.

Just one, big, giant step will do it.

The intramural program features several sports. Among them is wrestling as shown by this familiar scene.

Special highlights of the year for the members of the Liahona Fellowship included attending the Liahona Leadership Conference in the fall, attending the Christmas presentation of Handel's "Messiah," and attending the Spring Regional Conference, all held in Independence, the location of the world headquarters of the Church. In addition, the Liahona Fellowship presented a Christmas service to the local congregation.

FOUNDATION

Larry White, Vice-President; Roy Gass, Campus Minister; Donna Ring, Treasurer; Judy Sager, Secretary; and Ken Suetterlin and Lynette Bradfield, Religious Life Council Representatives, take a snack break while planning a future Wesley Foundation meeting.

This beautiful room, one of many in the newly completed Wesley Foundation building, provides a warm, cozy environment for study or relaxation.

Being a member of Wesley Foundation this year meant devoting time to work for the new Wesley Foundation Building. Cleaning floors, pouring cement for driveways and sidewalks, and transporting books and furniture were among the tasks performed by members in the process of moving into the new building.

Recreation of the group included devouring seventy-five pounds of spareribs at its September barbecue, caroling before Christmas, singing at hootenanies, swimming at the college pool, and enjoying folk dances. Wesley entered all of the Homecoming competitions, placing fourth in the men's beauty float division. Freshmen Cheryl Steinmetz and Margaret Jones, and upperclassmen Linn Lisbona and Sam Simerly, were cited by campus minister Ray Gass for contributions to Homecoming work.

Students found a new means of communicating their faith by taking part in special interest groups on drama, interpretive dance, folk dancing and singing, and choir. Margaret Hall, coordinator for deputation teams, and Joetta Petree, worship chairman, employed Foundationers as resource personnel for area churches and groups.

Soon after the building was completed, it was used seven days a week for communion and worship services, meetings of the special interest groups, study, and recreation.

"The Church in the University" was the theme of the Methodist Student Movement Spring Conference at the Lake of the Ozarks. Several students attended and shared their experiences with others of the group.

IN MEMORIAM

So quickly does the hand of God move that we are shocked at whom and when it touches. It touched our hearts. Almost every person on the Northwest Missouri campus can remember a smile, a cheery hello, the interest those students showed in us. We bow our heads; we stare at the sidewalks and the mud and the dust but see nothing; we feel the void of a grief-stricken heart—empty as those chairs in the classrooms.

MRS. LULA MAE CURFMAN SHEETZ
May 24, 1904-February 23, 1966

Mrs. Harry Sheetz, member of the NWMSC faculty since 1954, was friend to all who knew her. She had served as acting Dean of Women from 1947 to 1948, and for four years she had been the Dean of Women at Central College, Fayette.

Mrs. Sheetz had been very active in campus and civic affairs, serving on many faculty committees, as Book Club Co-Sponsor, chapter treasurer of AAUP, district representative of the Missouri Association of Teachers of English, past president of the Maryville branch of AAUW, member of the Methodist Church; Chapter L, PEO; the Nodaway County Chapter of DAR; and the Nodaway County Historical Society.

A graduate of Maryville High School in 1922, she received her B.S. in Ed. degree from NWMSC in 1927 and earned her Master's degree at Columbia University in New York City.

The flags flew at half mast; Mrs. Lula Mae Sheetz had died quietly in her sleep, and students and faculty alike mourned her passing.
